Optical: Astigmatism is a long word but it is nothing to be scared of. It is a disease, just an irregularity in the curvature of the surface of the center of the eye, so small that you cannot see that it is there, and yet it interferes with good vision. If you have trouble in seeing small objects clearly, like other people, such as small letters and figures, it may be due to astigmatism. The only way to settle the matter is to have the eyes examined by an expert, some one who makes a specialty of fitting correct glasses to incorrect eyes. The glasses prescribed for astigmatism are not the ordinary kind, but are cylindrical in the nature of their curves. For each case there must be a special size of this cylinder, and what fits one will not fit some one else. It will be right for it if it has been made to agree with the result of the listing of your eyes. I suggest that you call upon me and see whether you have this ocular defect, no charge for examinations, Dr. Parmenter, Eye Specialist, Norway.

C. S. Akers Takes Norway Post Office. Inspector of Post-offices, W. R. Robinson of Portland, was in town Tuesday and went over the books and accounts of Capt. M. P. Stiles, the retiring postmaster, and formally turned Uncle Sam's Norway post office business over to Charles S. Akers, the newly appointed official.

Capt. Stiles walked out of the office with eight years of public service and its emoluments to his credit. This was the closing scene of the post-office struggle that has been "off and on" for some months past and has caused the patrons of the office and some others a heap of trouble.

Capt. Stiles did not remain to teach the new comer the way to the letter boxes or the forms for making official reports.

THE NORWAY ADVERTISER

(OXFORD COUNTY, ME.)

SUE L. ROUNDS, FIRST ASSISTANT SOUTH PARIS HIGH SCHOOL. Graduated from South Paris High School '93; graduated from Bates '99; taught in Milan, N. H.; tutor to Ex-Gov. Powers' children at Jouton one year; taught at Leavitt Institute three years; at South Paris High the rest of the time.

Universalist Oxford Association.

Sent Annual Meeting Held at the Universalist Church, Wednesday and Thursday.

Wednesday forenoon the Universalists of Oxford county assembled at the Universalist church. The meeting was well attended and among those present were Rev. F. E. Barton of Bethel, J. H. Barrows, president of the association, also of Bethel, Rev. F. H. Cole of Medford Falls, Rev. J. H. Little of South Paris, Rev. D. A. Ball of Gorham, N. H., Rev. C. A. Knickerbocker of Paris Hill, Rev. Hannah J. Powell of Bridgton.

The meeting was called to order at 11 o'clock and prayer was offered by Rev. J. H. Little of South Paris.

Rev. S. G. Davis, pastor of the Norway church, gave a warm address of welcome, which was fittingly responded to by President J. H. Barrows.

Mr. Barrows spoke of the organization of the Universalists many years ago and how the organization has grown and prospered.

At the business meeting, President Barrows appointed a religious committee composed of Rev. S. G. Davis, Rev. F. E. Barton and Mrs. S. A. Danforth; committee on resolutions, Rev. J. H. Little, Mrs. A. D. Colson of Bethel and Rev. W. J. Taylor of Lewiston; committee on reports, Rev. W. J. Webber of Rumford Falls, De S. A. Bennett, Mrs. S. G. Davis. Remarks were made by Rev. J. H. Cole, Rev. S. G. Davis and Rev. J. H. Little.

The monumental fund which is being raised for the purpose of purchasing a monument in memory of Rev. W. J. Hooper has already amounted to $243.72. About $300 will be required. Mr. Hooper was well known all over the State and was at one time pastor of the church here. Much good was done by him to help the cause in Oxford county.

Dinner was served in Concert Hall. At 1:30 the meeting was called to order and after a short praise service conducted by Rev. F. E. Barton an interesting service was held. Reading of Scripture, John 17, and prayer by Rev. C. A. Knickerbocker; solo by Jonnie Gibson of Bethel; sermon by Rev. Hannah J. Powell of Bridgton. Subject, "The Lesson of an Old Story," text, II Kings 5:19, "And he said unto him, go in peace." She took as the theme, "There is nothing in anything we cannot do." The speaker told a story of an old lady whom he recently met who was telling how she regularly attended church. She said "Plenty of faith and an old dress and hood is all I need." There are more of this sort needed in the churches to-day. Nearly every family has a Bible in the house but it is considered by most of them as a relic. Church matters are being conducted in a business like way more than ever before.

Rev. D. A. Ball of Gorham, N. H., took as his subject, "The Church—shall we support and maintain it?" The church is the acknowledged center of religious life. There is an earnest desire in the hearts of our earnest people. There is something in the fact that we are taking life too easy. Are we, the church people, to respond to the appeals for material things to help along the cause of the church? Sometimes we respond to the call but not all the time by any means. We are not here for the maintenance of a business but we are here to bear a message of love and truth. The Christian church is to-day in the front rank. A discussion of the addresses by Rev. J. H. Little and Rev. C. A. Knickerbocker.

In the evening a praise service was held with music by Mrs. B. F. Bradbury, Marguerite Finney, Lona Noble and William Noble. Mrs. Charles Akers, organist.

Reading of Scripture and prayer by Rev. D. A. Ball of Gorham, N. H., followed by sermon by Rev. W. H. Gould of Portland. He took as his text,

More Work to Do.

There is considerable more work to do on the Lake road. It will take more money than we have. Can't you contribute? Don't give me much—just a little, 25, 50 or 100 cents will be thankfully received—would not kick if you were to contribute $5.00 if you could afford to do it.

Peck and His Mother-in-Law.

"Laugh and the world laughs with you." "Weep and you weep alone!" To laugh best is to see Tenbrooke-Lambert and Tenbrooke in that merry musical comedy, "Peck and His Mother-in-Law."

Tenbrooke-Lambert and Tenbrooke among the exponents of comedy are second to none. Their position is in the very front rank, having established themselves so thoroughly in public and critical favor that their engagement here becomes one of the really important events of the season to those who are fond of laughter and to the better class of theatre-goers. None of the fun producers make their points so effectively, and with less apparent effort than Tenbrooke-Lambert and Tenbrooke. There is no exaggeration about their work. It is natural in the extreme, and without raising their voices above the ordinary conversational limit, their audiences never lose a word they are saying.

If you don't believe that this "mighty monarch of merry musical plays," as it has been aptly termed, contains more hearty laughs, more good, bright, snappy music, which encourages the art of whistling than any other musical comedy that you can recall, just take a quiet tip and secure your seats for Tuesday evening, June 26, at the Norway Opera House. Seats on sale at Stone's.

SOUTH PARIS.

A Quiet Wedding.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Tufts on Nichols street Sunday afternoon occurred a very pretty and impressive wedding service when their daughter Florence was united in marriage to Harold Chester Anderson. It was just two o'clock when the contracting parties entered the parlor and took their places beneath the bridal wreath. Clara May Needham of Portland, a cousin of the bridegroom and John T. Lindley served as bridesman and best man. The ring service was used, Rev. J. H. Little, pastor of the Universalist church officiating.

The bride and groom both wore graduation suits, the bride carrying pink and white cautions, the gift of a friend. Only near relatives were present which included four generations of the bride's family. The wedding cake made by Belle Tufts was cut by the bride. Late in the afternoon ice cream and cake were served. Many pretty and useful presents were received.

The bay window was decorated with white butting, evergreen and daisies, and a bridal wreath made of brides-wreath in the center of decorations, and plants tastefully arranged. Ice cream and cake were served.

They left Monday on the 9:30 train for their future home at Providence, R. I. The best wishes of their many friends go with them. Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Anderson accompanied their son and wife as far as Portland.

The Story of Father John's

A Story Everyone Should Read, True and Full of Human Interest.

Half a century ago, Rev. Father John O'Brien of St. Patrick's Parish, Lowell, Mass., through overwork and exposure, became seriously run down. A cold and stubborn cough and lung trouble threatened his life. An eminent specialist gave Father John, as he was fondly called, a prescription to cure the cold and remove the lung trouble as well as to build up and strengthen the body. The clergyman began to improve at once, the cough disappeared and his lungs healed. It corrected his digestion, made new tissue and Father John was soon restored to his former health and strength.

Father John recommended the medicine to his parishioners and friends, and because of its merits it became the family remedy in thousands of homes, and became known as "Father John's Medicine," having been so named by the people, and was advertised, all with the approval of Father John.

If taken faithfully it will cure all throat and lung troubles, prevent Pneumonia and Consumption, and make flesh and strength. NOTE:—Father John's Medicine is not a patent medicine and does not contain alcohol or poisonous drugs. Read guarantee which follows:

$25,000 GUARANTEE.

As a guarantee that the story of Father John's Medicine is absolutely true, the sum of $25,000 will be given to any charitable institution if it can be shown otherwise. Also it is further guaranteed that if Father John's Medicine does not do all that we claim for it, your money will be refunded.

NORWAY AND VICINITY.

A Runaway.
While Ed. Shedd of Waterford was trying to hitch his horse near C. J. Hathaway's lumber yard the horse became frightened and broke away. He made a circle in the yard, came out to corner of Cottage and Beal streets, went down Beal, out to Danforth, up Temple, out Cottage street, and up Main street to the bridge on Pleasant street which is being rebuilt. Here he made a sharp turn and ran into A. P. Bassett's stable. He was hitched to a common farm wagon and but little damage was done. One shaft of the wagon was cracked, and he ran against the hen house door at the stable and broke it open. When unhitched from the wagon he went into the henhouse himself. Those who saw him say that they never saw a horse make so many sharp turns with so little damage done.

Base Ball.

A large crowd saw the Radcliffe team beat out the Oxford in a close and very interesting game at the Fair Grounds, Saturday afternoon.

The game was remarkable in the fact that all the runs were made in the first inning, neither side being able to get a man across the plate after that. In the first half Oxford earned one run on a single by Adams. The Radcliffe scored their two on a two-bagger by Leonard, a single by Cole and errors by Breen and Moody.

The Radcliffe team had four new players, Johnson, Wilder, Burdell and Burke, while Oxford had one, Rounds.

Johnson of Bates pitched a fine game for the locals. Adams also pitched in his usual good form.

The management deserves credit for having some one on the grounds to keep the spectators back of the wire, giving the catchers a chance to work.

Jar of Brown Tail Moths.

It surely is, and the cocoon was picked from one of Calvin Richardson's crab apple trees Tuesday, May 29, by Mrs. Levi Richardson.

We are sorry to announce this but it is a fact. We have them on exhibition at our office. Rolled in the leaves were an immense number of small eggs.

Mrs. Richardson guessed that the eggs might be and took the roll of leaves and put in a jar and the eggs hatched.

How they happened to get there is more than we can tell. We hope this is the only nest in that vicinity but we fear there are more. Look over your trees and see if they are not with you. Calvin Richardson lives on what is locally called Crockett Ridge, Norway.

Recreation.

EDITOR OF ADVERTISER:—For the purpose of ascertaining the feeling regarding the enjoyment and health conditions with which our boys are and should be surrounded I take the liberty to ask a little space in your paper, writing in a purely non-official capacity. As is well known we have here in Norway village several hundred small boys who should have some place or places where they can feel that they have a right to assemble, play, yell, kick up a dust and possibly, fight a little, for old score must be kept nearly settled and new ones receive prompt attention, of course.

There seems to be a very prevalent disposition on the part of the boys to play ball, but where? If they play in the street-way they are in constant peril of prosecution for violating a town ordinance forbidding ball playing within ten rods of a dwelling. It is too expensive for such people to hire a right to use the Fair Grounds, and after looking the field all over it seems to be best in order for the town to purchase a plot of ground somewhere and fit up a park for the benefit of the rising generation.

The writer has conversed with several men of good observation and judgment as to the matter mentioned herein, and it seems that many are interested in the scheme. The town has an undoubted right to purchase land for a park, or if need be take possession of the same under the law and pay a proper price for it. Believing that it is a duty we owe the class named to furnish them with proper recreation facilities and that the generous impulse of the public will be favorable to the plan, and with the hope that others interested may respond with their recommendations, I remain, Yours truly, D. S. SANBORN.

Norway, June 15, 1906.

THE ADVERTISER would be pleased to have others think and write on this subject.

Peterboro, N. H.

One who has not visited Peterboro has no idea of this beautiful village among the hills in southern New Hampshire. The place is situated in a fine farming region. The lofty summit of old Mt. Monadnock can be seen from the western horizon and to the eastward, "The Pack" shuttles in the range of vision.

Through the valley northward flows quite a large stream of water, where one would naturally expect it to run the other way. There are several good water powers, which I judge are not fully utilized. The railroad is constructed substantially on the banks of the main stream.

The streets of the village radiate from the business portion or center, like the points of a starfish. Some of them are very pretty, and the well trimmed lawns and neatly painted houses show that the people have taste and a love of the beautiful. The tourist who visits the village, Norway—the village not nearly so large. It is withal, an attractive place and draws, I learned on a visit there last week, an increasing number of summer sojourners, year by year.

But what struck me most was the intellectual and moral bearing of the men and women of the village. I particularly noticed this in the Unitarian church Sunday, which we attended to hear the singing and the baccalaureate sermon, by the pastor to the graduating class of the high school. In front of us in the end of the old-fashioned box-pew, sat a gentleman who was typical of the people of Peterboro, but, as I noticed, other of like cultivation and gentlemanly bearing at the farther end of the gallery to our right. I did not know either of them, but they were such as would be noticed by any New England congregation. The minister showed every mark of the pure and kind hearted pastor, the scholarly and eloquent divine, and the intellectual man. Never have I heard a better sermon of that kind, "Character in Life" he said to do with your success in life" he said to do with your success in life.

When women are troubled with irregular or painful periods, weakness, displacement or ulceration of the female organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, flatulence, general debility, indigestion or nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unequalled endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female ills.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction has been advising sick women free of charge. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Remember that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing women, and don't allow any druggist to sell you anything else in its place.

The singing by the choir, of which Prof. and Mrs. Verne M. Whitman are a part, I need not say we enjoyed immensely. It was told that on one public occasion when the choir sang, they had been loudly applauded at the close of the first stanza—a thing never before happening there. We were surprised and delighted of course, at the regard the people of all classes have for them and the warm friendship expressed on every hand. Mr. Whitman had been re-elected but had not accepted the principalship of the high school when we went there, and there was great anxiety among the people lest he might go elsewhere and not return.

Besides its schools and churches Peterboro has a local paper, "The Transcript," is one of the best of its class—well edited and up-to-date in all respects. It is a most readable and interesting paper, and some matters that were noted down in my memorandum book, for future use.

On the day of our return I fell in with the Master of the State Grange of N. H., who took the liberty to ask me to join his farm some seven miles out in another town. He is also a member of the State Board of Cattle Commissioners. He is a well informed gentleman and one desirous to make his farm a model one. He was in Norway last week, at a grange meeting and was familiar with our section of the State.

Peterboro is a dry town. I found on inquiry that people generally preferred the prohibition law to the present law of the state. One man informed us that the temperance people were watching the fight in Maine this year with great interest, and said he: "If Maine re-elects Governor Cobb, and sustains the prohibition law, I shall be in the first rank of those who will be glad to see the Maine Law."

When a Woman Nags.

A doctor expresses the opinion that nine times out of ten the woman who nags is tired. One time out ten she is hateful. Times out of mind her husband is to blame.

The cases that come under the physician's eye are those of the women who are tired, and who have been tired so long that they are suffering from some form of disease.

They may think they are only tired, but in fact they are ill. In such cases the woman often suffers more from her nagging than her husband or the children with whom she finds fault.

She knows she does it. She does not intend to do so. She suffers in her own self-respect when she does it, and in the depth of her soul longs for something to stop it. The condition is usually brought on by broken sleep, improper food, want of some other exercise than housekeeping and endless nagging.

It is often the most unselfish and most affectionate of women who fall into this state. They are too much devoted to their husbands to give themselves enough of any healthy exercise and recreation, enough of naps, perhaps, or concerts.

No Bare Headed Girls.

Going bare headed in the evening, which was a fad for a few summers among girls, doesn't seem likely to be revived this summer, if one may guess by the way maids are making provisions for mull and lace hats.

Somehow, old-fashioned folks seemed to think there was something immodest in a girl going bare headed, and argued that it would change the law. Besides, girls who have been abroad report the news that only peasants go out of their homes without headgear. In England and on the continent a woman of good social position never appears outside of her own home grounds without hat and gloves.

Girls are also wearing gloves this summer. They feel just as comfortable and their hands look much nicer when they wear them that way. The girl who has a common sense to combine the old-fashioned and new-fashioned ideas in the right common sense way, is the girl who is going to be a success.

Artificial ice cream is the latest thing. It is made of cotton-seed oil and flavored with vanilla, glucin, and nitro-benzene and is said to be nearly as good as the genuine ice cream, although the recipe sounds like a prescription for a chemical fertilizer.

INTERESTING LETTER

WRITTEN BY A NOTABLE WOMAN

Mrs. Sarah Kellogg of Denver, Color. Bearer of the Woman's Relief Corps, Sends Thanks to Mrs. Pinkham.

The following letter was written by Mrs. Kellogg, 24 1023 Lincoln Ave., Denver, Col., to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

I was troubled with a tumor, which kept growing, causing me intense agony and great mental depression. I was unable to attend to my house work, and life became a burden. I thought would be of any use to me, but I lost my appetite, my courage and all hope.

"I could not bear to think of an operation, and in my distress I tried every remedy which I thought would be of any use to me, and reading of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to sick women decided to give it a trial. I felt so discouraged that I had little hope of recovery, and when I began to feel better, after the second week, thought it only meant temporary relief, but to my great surprise I found that I kept gaining, while the tumor lessened in size.

"The Compound continued to build up my general health and the tumor seemed to be absorbed, until, in seven months, the tumor was entirely gone and I a well woman. I am so thankful for my recovery that I ask you to publish my letter in newspapers, so other women may know of the wonderful curative powers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

When women are troubled with irregular or painful periods, weakness, displacement or ulceration of the female organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, flatulence, general debility, indigestion or nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unequalled endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female ills.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction has been advising sick women free of charge. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Remember that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing women, and don't allow any druggist to sell you anything else in its place.

Dead Men's Shoes.

Peuliar Beliefs About Them That Exist in the Old World.

"Dead men's shoes" is a common expression, but means much in many parts of the world. I find it particularly so in the case of the dead, as it is accorded much importance.

In Scotland, in the northern parts of England, in Scandinavia, as well as in Hungary, Croatia and Roumania, the utmost care is taken among the lower classes that the shoes of the dead be placed in a pair of good shoes before being laid to the ground. If the dead person happens to be a tramp and to have been found dead barefooted there will always be some charitable soul to furnish a pair of good boots for interment along with the corpse.

An inspector of police in Scotland has been known to purchase of his own accord a new pair of boots and to place them in the coffin of the deceased for the purpose of a murdered stranger who had been adventured interred barefooted the day before.

This practice, which likewise prevails among the Tiganes as well as many parts of Asia, is attributable to the belief that unless the dead are well shod when buried their ghosts come back to haunt the locality where they breathed their last in search of a pair of boots.

The shoe is a popularly supposed to be needed to pass in comfort and safety the broad plains which the departed soul must traverse before it can reach paradise. Among some nations these plains are declared to be covered with thorns, and the shoes of the dead are said to be made of burning sand. These plains of suffering are popularly credited with forming a sort of ante-chamber to hell. It is for this reason that the boots of the dead are called "hell shoes" in Norway, Sweden, Finland and Denmark.

Telling Time by Flowers.

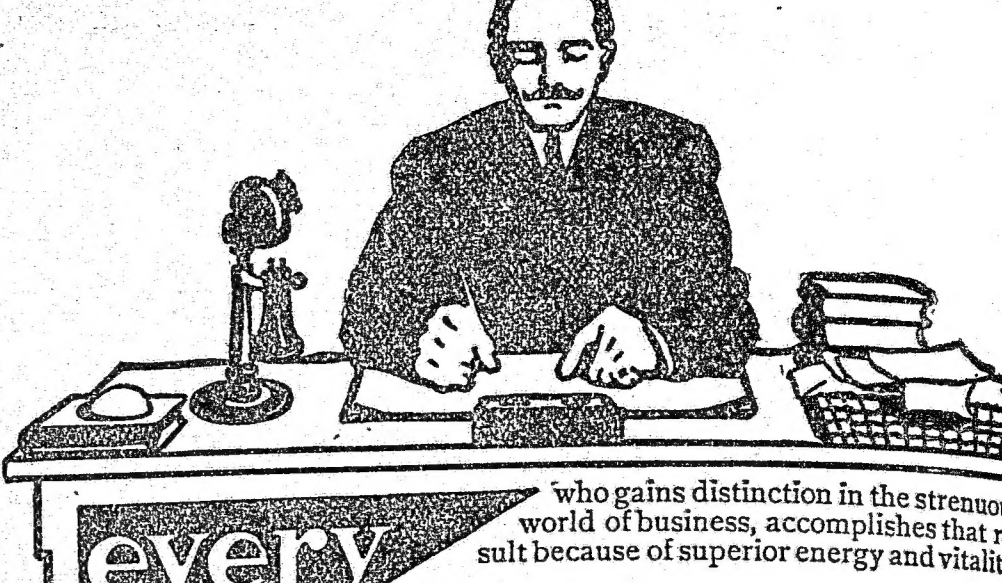

The professor of botany paused under an oak in a yard where young girls in white grouped themselves pretty about him.

"To tell time by the flowers," he said, "you should all be able to do that. Think how convenient it would be at this season."

"At 5 a. m. when the snow thistle opens. It is 5.30 when the white lily opens. It is 7 when the white lily opens. It is 8 when the hawkweed opens."

"At 11.12 a. m. the snow thistle closes. At noon precisely the yellow hawkweed closes. At 1.30 p. m. the hawkweed closes. At 5 the white lily closes. The dandelion closes at 8 sharp."

"Since Pliny's time 40 flowers have been known to open and shut with great punctuality at certain hours of the day and night. It would be possible, with a little labor, to construct a garden whose flowers, folding and unfolding, would make a first-rate clock."

An Animal Story For Little Folks

MORE THAN SPOT COULD STAND

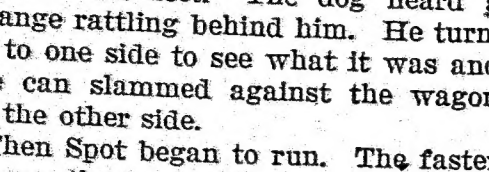

Spot would not pull the wagon for the two little girls.

"Never mind," said Ethel, "I know how we can make him go. Let's tie a tin can to his tail. Brother Tom makes dogs run by tying cans to their tails."

A tin can was found and tied on.

Both little girls got in the wagon and by pulling at the lines finally got old Spot to his feet. The dog heard a strange rattling behind him. He turned to one side to see what it was and the can slammed against the wagon on the other side.

Then Spot began to run. The faster he ran the louder the tin can rattled.

SPOT BEGAN TO RUN.

The little girls screamed and pulled on the lines, but there was no stopping Spot.

They saw a gentleman coming up the street. "Oh, papa," Daisy cried, "stop him—stop Spot! We'll be killed!"

Daisy's papa stopped the runaway. Then he asked, "Why, little daughter, what's this you've tied to Spot's tail?"

Both little girls were crying. "It is just a tin can we tied to his tail 'cause he wouldn't go, and Ethel said a tin can would make him go," Daisy explained.

"Well, it did make him go," Daisy's papa said, laughing. "But I don't believe you ever want to try it again, do you?"

Both little girls said no. Then Daisy's papa put them in the wagon and led old Spot home a sadder and a wiser dog—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

An Animal Story For Little Folks

A Catastrophe

At baby cat looked in the sky

And saw the birds flying.

Then whined this very sad refrain:

"Oh, I'm almost dying."

He climbed upon a fence and thought:

His brain grew tired, and dreaming,

He dreamed of artificial wings

And locomotor scheming.

"My dream is out!" he cried aloud.

"I'll fly just like a blue jay."

He found two palm leaf fans and tied them to his front paws straightway.

A feather duster, too, he tied

Upon his tail for steering.

Then climbed he high upon a roof,

Not for an instant fearing.

TIED THEM TO HIS FRONT PAWS.

The cat looked down and cried aloud,

"Look out!" His heart then thumping,

He jumped, sailed but an instant, then

Upon the ground fell bumping.

"Alas, alas, my leg has snapped!

My jaw, I think, is broken.

Run for a doctor; bring him quick!"

These were the cat words spoken.

The doctor came and tied him up.

He says, "I'm feeling splendid,

And mean to fly again some day

As soon as I am mended."

WEST PARIS.

Woman's Baptist Missionary Society. The Woman's Baptist Missionary Society of the Oxford Association held a very successful meeting here at the Free Baptist church last week Wednesday. The weather was fair and warm and a good delegation from nearly all the churches on the Grand Trunk R. R. line were present.

The meeting was opened at about eleven in the forenoon with the president, Mrs. C. E. Tolman of South Paris, in the chair. The opening prayer and praise service was led by Mrs. E. O. Taylor of Paris Hill. Mrs. Geo. Crockett of South Paris acted as secretary.

The directors were then called upon and reported as follows:—Mrs. L. C. Morton of South Paris on the Home mission work; Mrs. Rosetta Ryerson of West Sumner on the Foreign mission work; Ethel Ford of Bryant's Pond on the Junior Foreign missions; and Mrs. Howes of Mechanic Falls on Junior Home missions. Mrs. Anna Sargent Hunt of Auburn was then introduced and gave a very interesting talk on the mission work in Alaska, illustrating it with a map of that territory. She told much of their customs, condition and the lack of protection by our government.

The noon hour arrived and all adjourned with their basket lunches to the dining room in the Grange hall, where tables were set with white linen and profusely decorated with vases of cut flowers, and more than fifty were served with coffee by the North and West Paris ladies.

The afternoon session commenced promptly at one o'clock and after singing a hymn they proceeded to the annual election of officers resulting in the following:

Pres.—Mrs. C. E. Tolman, South Paris. V. Pres.—Mrs. Howes, Mechanic Falls. Sec.—Mrs. Annie Edwards, South Paris. Mrs. Tolman has faithfully and successfully served as president for ten years and wished to resign but after some persuasion she graciously though reluctantly accepted.

Mrs. J. K. Wilson of Portland was then introduced and gave a very interesting talk on the missionary work in general with suggestions of helpfulness, all the while framing her ideas to a spring house cleaning, beginning with the attic and clearing out the old rubbish, that is, giving away such ideas that might be helpful to some other society and throwing away all old and useless ways and think up or take up new ideas. The sleeping rooms were taken next and she thought there most strongly expressed was that missionary workers were apt to spend too much time sleeping instead of doing. The living room, the kitchen, the shed were cleaned in turn, and finally the yard was taken in hand. Open air meetings and entertainments were suggested and bright, cheery advertisements given of all meetings. When she had finished Mrs. Hunt of the forenoon wished to add a postscript, saying that it was her birthday and that last year she also spent her birthday in the basket missionary meeting and spoke of the gifts thus received through service.

A trio, "Cast thy Bread upon the Waters" was sung by Ella Z. Berry, Mrs. S. T. White and Mrs. R. T. Flavin of this place, after which Miss Owen from the Mather School at Beaufort, S. C., was introduced. Miss Owen's talk about the origin of the school, its originator, Mrs. Mather, its management and growth, also of the poor white people and negroes who work upon the plantations in that section was very interesting. Miss Owen has been a teacher in the school for several years.

The last on the program was a question box and discussion suggested by the last command of Christ found in Matt. 28: 18-20. The questions, "Who are Christ's friends?" and "How can we best serve as friends of Christ?" were asked by the chair and responded to in a direct and effective manner by different ones as called upon.

The meeting adjourned to meet next year in June with the Rumford Falls church by an invitation sent by Mrs. Mixer.

Horse Killed; Man Injured. Bert Silver of South Woodstock lost his horse, Tuesday, and suffered painful injuries in a mix-up with an auto.

The machine was being driven at high speed down the hilly road from Paris to Bryant's Pond, near John Foster's, when Mr. Silver encountered it. He threw up his hand for it to stop, but the motorist only reduced speed a trifle, and came rapidly down upon him. The horse turned suddenly, snapping the shaft, which pierced the animal's side, and throwing Mr. Silver to the ground, bruising him severely. The horse, bleeding freely, bolted, and ran a considerable distance before it fell exhausted. The auto driver made good his escape in the confusion. The horse had to be shot, as it had no chance for recovery. It was an excellent animal. Mr. Silver, who is in very bad circumstances, had been offered $150 for it only last week. This hill is certainly a dangerous place to meet an auto.

Sunday Services. Odd Fellows Memorial service was held at the Congregational church Sunday afternoon. In spite of the pouring rain 40 or 50 Odd Fellows and Rebekahs were present. Rev. F. E. Winn, pastor, gave an interesting sermon from Matt. 23: 8. "One is your Master, even Christ and all ye are brethren." Special music was rendered by the choir consisting of W. S. Dudley, Jessie Tucker, A. W. Dudley and wife, organist, Ada Flint.

In the evening the Union Gospel Temperance meeting which had been postponed on account of rain, was held in the midst of still heavier rain. Quite a good number were present and the following interesting program was carried out:

Praise service.....Director W. S. Dudley Scripture Reading and Prayer.....Audience.....Choir.....Reading.....Mrs. Myra Patrick.....Song.....There are bands of ribbon white around the world.....Children's Address.....Rev. Fred Winn.....Song.....Male Quartet.....Exercise, Miss Andrews showing the relative amount spent for different articles yearly in the U. S. Different colored ribbons were used, each inch of ribbon representing one million dollars and the contrast between the few inches of white ribbon representing missionary work, and the vast of black ribbon representing the amount spent for liquor, reaching more than around the vestry, was a striking object lesson. As the ribbon was being unrolled and the amount it stood for stated, no one wondered when a small boy ejaculated audibly "gee!"

Ray Lamb, the young son of Fred Lamb underwent an operation for appendicitis at his home here last Friday. He is doing well. The operation was performed by Dr. Williams of Portland, assisted by Drs. Sylvester and Blake.

His illness covered a period of several months, and death was not unexpected. He was one of Waltham's most prominent and esteemed citizens, and his demise saddened a host of friends, society associates and citizens, whose esteem he held in the highest degree.

Dr. Hamlin was the son of William and Louisa Hamlin and was born on August 29, 1841.

July 21, 1862, he enlisted as a private in Company B of the 16th Maine Regiment. He was wounded in the battle of Fredericksburg, December 13, 1862, and thereafter remained in hospitals all September 10, 1863, when he was transferred to the Reserve Corps.

After being mustered out of the military service he took up the study of dentistry in this State and in Boston. He practiced his profession for several years in Boston and in Thomsville, Ga., but since June, 1879, had been in practice in Waltham.
